

Statute of the support for a research visit to the Institute of Philosophy of the CAS by established foreign researchers

International cooperation and contacts with prominent foreign researchers are a prerequisite for cultivating high-end research activities at the Institute of Philosophy of the Czech Academy of Sciences. For this reason, the Institute of Philosophy announces a financial support program for research visits by established foreign researchers. The amount of support is fixed at the maximum of 300 thousand CZK. The length of stay under this program must be set for at least three months. The granting of the support is governed by the following rules:

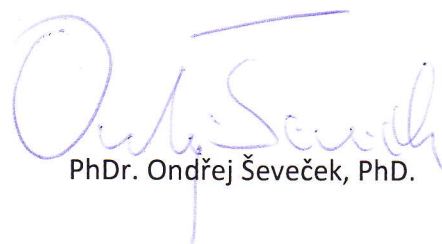

1. The beneficiary must be an established foreign researcher in the categories of senior or advanced researchers. Qualifications of the beneficiary shall be documented in the application with a list of publications with international relevance (see paragraph 3, letter b).
2. The applicant for the support is a department of the Institute of Philosophy, whose head submits the application to the Director of the Institute of Philosophy.
3. The application must consist of the following documents:
  - a) A filled-out application form which clearly describes the benefit of hosting a foreign researcher for the department in question and for the Institute of Philosophy as a whole, a schedule of the visit, and the required financial amount.
  - b) A structured CV of the foreign researcher with a list of publications.
  - c) Description of the research project on which the foreign researcher will work during the visit (ranging up to 2 standard pages), and its expected outputs.
  - d) A statement signed by the foreign researcher that clearly expresses agreement with the conditions of the support and commitment to dedicate any publications that may result from the research visit to the hosting department.
4. The application is to be submitted electronically to the Secretariat of the Institute of Philosophy and to the Scientific Secretary of the Institute of Philosophy at the latest by April 30 of any given year. The supported research visit shall be conducted in the following calendar year.

5. Decision on the granting of the support is taken by the management of the Institute of Philosophy at the recommendation of the Council of the Institute of Philosophy. If necessary, the Council of the Institute of Philosophy ranks the applications in preferential order.
6. Should a lack of funds occur at any given year, the management of the Institute of Philosophy reserves the right to negotiate special conditions for the selected application. The foreign researcher must again express an agreement with the new set of conditions.
7. The Department Head of the hosting department of the Institute of Philosophy must produce a report on the course of the project and its results no later than one month after the end of the research visit. The Department Head shall submit the report electronically to the Director of the Institute of Philosophy via the Secretariat of the Institute of Philosophy and the Scientific Secretary of the Institute of Philosophy. The Department Head is also responsible for registering published results of the project in the ASEP database.

Prague, March 24, 2017

Č. j.: FLÚ-242skr/2017

PhDr. Ondřej Ševeček, PhD.

No. of Annexes: 2

List of Annexes:

1. Application form for a research visit to the Institute of Philosophy of the CAS by established foreign researchers
2. Final report form for results of a research visit to the Institute of Philosophy of the CAS by established foreign researchers